From Father Johnson

THE SPIRITUAL WORKS OF MERCY

The first spiritual work of mercy is to instruct the ignorant. Right off, we should clarify that we are not using the word "ignorant" in the way it is sometimes used nowadays, meaning rude or without manners. Nor does it mean stupid. Ignorant here means simply lacking in knowledge of one kind or another. As someone wrote, stupidity has no lasting cure, but ignorance can be quickly and easily cured by knowledge. Therefore, all teachers are exercising this spiritual work of mercy when they instruct their students, of whatever age. All parents do this, too, of course. All catechists, all missionaries, all preachers do the same, and their instruction is the most valuable of all, because knowledge of the Faith will lead us to eternal life, as well as give us lessons on virtue and happiness here on earth. Jesus Christ is the greatest instructor of all time. Throughout his earthly life and in the time between his Rising and Ascension, he was the greatest teacher ever. With divine patience, he taught his disciples (the slowest of slow learners) and brought his light of truth to dispel their ignorance. We need to work hard and humbly to dispel ignorance, especially our own. Instructing the ignorant means first of all instructing ourselves. This spiritual work of mercy begins very much at home!

SAINT OF THE WEEK

15 March ~ Saint Longinus. Sacred tradition tells us that the soldier in the Gospel of John who pierced Jesus' side was the same centurion who professed his faith at the foot of the Cross when he exclaimed, "Truly this was the Son of God!" He is named Longinus, and his main shrine is in Saint Peter's in the Vatican, where we find the famous statue of him by Bernini. He holds his spear, the one that brought forth blood and water from our Lord's side. In the sixth century, Saint Antoninus of Piacenza reports reverencing this spear while he was on pilgrimage in Jerusalem, where it was on display next to Jesus' crown of thorns. Sometime after Pentecost, Longinus went to Cappadocia, present-day Turkey, where he heard the preaching of the apostles and decided to devote himself to a life of prayer. In his old age, Longinus was arrested and dragged before the Roman Governor, who ordered him to bow before some pagan idols. Instead, Longinus grabbed an axe and smashed the statues of the heathen gods. He was immediately beheaded. The Governor afterward repented and was healed of his blindness when he revered the body of the martyr. Because of this, Longinus is invoked against eye infections. He is the patron saint of soldiers. Saint Longinus, pray for us.

THE PARISH RETREAT on the Four Last Things was a great success in every way! We thank Father Tom Kocik and the hundreds that came.

THIS WEEK'S RESPECT LIFE PRAYER INTENTION

For all Catholics; may we follow Jesus's example of humbly serving others at every stage and in every circumstance of life.

Respect Life Ministry

By radiating charity and mercy to all our neighbors, we provide those much-needed islands of mercy. Together, we stand against the wind of the throwaway culture and brave its sea of indifference, sustained by Jesus who is, as Pope Francis has called Him, “the living face of the Father’s mercy.” ~ “Life Issues Forum: After Marching, Acting as Islands of Mercy,” Caitlin Thomas, USCCB Secretariat of Pro-Life Activities

CARD NIGHT FOR THE TROOPS!

OFFICE FOR CHILD PROTECTION

Boundaries: Maintaining safe boundaries when working with children and clients is about more than just physical contact, or the lack thereof. It can be practiced in many ways, including not taking personal phone calls in front of children or not asking clients to do personal favors for you (or vice-versa). For more information, please contact the Office for Child Protection at (508) 997-7337.
