THE HOLY OILS

At this point, all the priests present join in the bishop's consecration of the Sacred Chrism. As the bishop says the prayer aloud, the priests in silence stretch out their right hands towards the oil as a sign of their priestly office, and of their communion with the bishop. Just as they have done at the Consecration of the Mass, they join the bishop in this holy action as he says: "And so, Father, we ask you to bless + this oil you have created. Fill it with the power of the Holy Spirit through Christ your Son." (Thus the Chrism is an instrument of the Holy Trinity itself). "It is from Christ that Chrism takes its name, and with Chrism you have anointed for yourself priests and kings, prophets and martyrs." The grace of God and the power of the Holy Spirit have entered human history through this Chrism and changed it for the better. The Sacred Chrism and the other two Oils are part of God's plan to establish and strengthen the Kingdom of God.

SAINT OF THE WEEK

9 July ~ Saint Rose Chao. In the year 1900, in China, a secret society called The Boxers began a campaign to cleanse the land of foreign influence. Westerners were their first targets, and Chinese who had become Christians were next. It is estimated that they put to death a total of 30,000 native Chinese, among whom were Rose Chao, her mother, and her sister Mary. Mary and Rose had both chosen to remain unmarried; Rose worked as a catechist among her countrymen despite the danger this entailed. On 28 July 1900, the women were warned that a gang of Boxers were coming and sought a hiding place in an old well. They were soon found and dragged out. After they were told that they could renounce Christ and save their lives, Rose stepped forward to say, "We have already made up our minds that we would sooner die than renounce our faith." They were then told that they would certainly be put to death. Rose demanded that the Boxers bring them to the family burial plot so that they might die in the company of their ancestors. The request was carried out; as soon as they reached the graveyard they were beheaded. Saint Rose left behind memories of an exemplary catechist, and a woman pure, serene, loving, humble, honest, and ready for any sacrifice. Saint Rose Chao, pray for us!

FORTNIGHT FOR FREEDOM WITNESSES TO FREEDOM
 FORTNIGHT4FREEDOM★ORG

Surely we must pray earnestly for those who are persecuted abroad and for the preservation of religious freedom at home. Surely we must demand that government leaders do more to end religious persecution and to protect its victims, including refugees, even as we give generously to Catholic relief agencies at work in those countries where the persecutions are most severe. Surely we seek to defend our religious freedoms at home, using the lawful means that our nation puts at our disposal as citizens, demanding that elected and appointed officials uphold our God-given freedoms while using our freedom to reject every form of unjust discrimination. All this we must do and more. But in the end, if we wish to be catalysts of peace and justice in our land, all of us, whatever our vocation, must stand before the world as witnesses to freedom. This we must do by loving and praying for those who engage in violent persecution, as well as for those who seek to limit our ministries and curtail our freedoms at home. We must love them and pray for them as we seek first the Kingdom of God. We know not what the future holds, but let us approach the future as Jesus would: "[with] heartfelt compassion, kindness, humility, gentleness, and patience" (Col. 3:12). If we do so, then, no matter happens, we shall truly be free! (Cf. John 8:32). ~ Archbishop Lori, Opening Mass Homily, Fortnight for Freedom, Basilica of the Assumption, June 21, 2016

MICHAEL'S FUND

A long standing charity that springs from our parish is Michael's Fund, which commemorates Michael Wrobel each year at this time and raises money to help children who need a bone marrow transplant. As in former years, there will be a golf tournament and dinner at the Fall River Country Club, this year falling on Monday, July 11. I'm told the weather always cooperates. If you wish to know more about this wonderful effort, please speak to Tom or Cindy Wrobel or visit the website at www.michaelsfund.com. Good luck this year, Tom and Cindy and everyone who so generously helps out!

It is easy to ask God for things; we all do it. When will we learn to give him thanks and adore him? ~ Pope Frances tweet of 2/28/14. Do I live my life out of a grateful heart? How is gratitude expressed in the activities of my life?
